Tokyo, 11 April 2011

Murad Bavbek, MD.,
President of the Turkish Neurosurgical Society

On behalf of all the members of the Japan Neurosurgical Society (JNS) and as Chairman of the Board of Directors of JNS, I would like to express my most sincere appreciation for your kind and heartfelt messages regarding the devastating disaster in the eastern part of Japan.

Already you know from TV news that the estimated number of dead people is more than 12,000 and the missing is around 15,000.

In addition, the leakage from the nuclear power stations is obvious and unfortunately the spreading of the radiation has been detected in the surrounding area. They are trying to enclose the radioactives, but so far no effective management has been done.

On behalf of JNS, we thank you very much indeed, again, for your warm words and sympathy. We will never give up and we will do our utmost to recreate and rebuild the peaceful Japan which the disaster has taken away from us, and finally we will get back the usual daily life of all inhabitants in Japan as before.

Sincerely yours,

寺本 明
